Sacred Indulgence Telesummit — Speaker Application

Thank you for your interest in sharing your wisdom with the Sacred Indulgence Telesummit — a heart-centered gathering devoted to sacred self-care, nervous system nourishment, embodied living, and devotional rest.

The idea for this Telesummit came to me in a dream and I have to admit there is a time crunch. I will choose the speakers as quickly as possible. My intention is to get all recordings completed by February 7, 2026. If we do receive additional speakers than planned, we may extend the telesummit to a multi-day format and I will be extending the recording deadline to the 10th. If you decide this would be in alignment please remember, I will need your pictures, bio, links and offer information and images asap. I will need the links to landing pages by February 7th. I am hoping to have all speaker info completed on the website before February 1st, which is the day we will start promoting this event. I realize this is a short turnaround. So please keep this in mind as you consider participation. Even though this is a short time frame; We are committed to keeping it as simple as possible infused with the energy of ease. Which is why we will not be including the option of affiliate programs in this summit. We will look at including it in the next summit.

This is a soulful, non-hustle space designed to uplift, restore, and gently transform. Please answer the questions below with honesty, heart, and clarity. There are no “perfect” answers — only aligned ones.

We review applications with care and intention.
